A Vintage Year

A cruise among the yearlings to be presented at the sales during Easter at Randwick creates the impression that blood stock has enjoyed a vintage year.

The standard is high, and there are scores of fine individuals among the youngsters to be submitted by both the firms of William Inglis and Son Ltd. and Chisholm and Co.

There are, too, brothers, sisters and other close blood relations to some of our most notable performers, such as Mollison, Rampion, Eurythmic and High Syce.

An interesting phase is the introduction of nearly a dozen new sires, and these include two notable racehorses of recent years in Pantheon and Silvius, who were unlucky with minor places in the Melbourne Cup, but proved themselves notable weight-for-age performers.

Attached is a review of some of the stock to be offered from all the greatest studs in N.S.W.:—

Fine Individuals at Inglis'.

Of Inglis' 390 catalogued, Mr. Percy Miller, of Kia Ora, Scone, is the biggest contributor with 102 yearlings; surely a huge battalion to put into the ring.

His assignment starts off with a most attractive colt by Rossendale from Maltine's Daughter, a pedigree which represents a similar cross to that of Jocelyn, who proved a notable stayer a few years ago for Mr. John Spencer Brunton and won the Metropolitan. This colt is followed by a bay colt by Manfred from Queen of Comedy, who is a credit to his young and promising sire, whom he much resembles in conformation.

In addition to a fine collection of yearlings by the sires of his own stud, Magpie, Legionnaire, Spelthorne, and Pantheon, Mr. Miller has some very attractive youngsters by Silvius, High Art, Windbag, and Spearhead. Pantheon, who will be remembered as a great racehorse of outstanding English quality when racing against the most noted of modern horses a few years ago, will be represented by his first batch of yearlings. Mr. Miller gave 7,250 gns. for him at the dispersal of Kingsclere Stud, and the quality of his stock is such that his owner has no reason to regret the big outlay.

No fewer than 60 comprise Mr. Herbert Thompson's batch, with a very fine collection of colts and fillies by Heroic, whose first batch of two-year-olds in the current season have done so well. Moabite is represented here, too, by youngsters possessing the good looks that are accepted as the hall-mark of this sire, and the performances of Semitist, Marinade and Ptolemy will draw attention to the prospects of his new season's get.

In the Oakleigh draft are yearlings by a particularly highly bred new sire in Canusa, by Swynford from a sister to the dam of Son-in-Law. Brazenface has drawn attention to another of the stud's sires in Cistercian, and he will be represented by youngsters whose notable speed appeals to those in search of early winners.

In point of numbers, the Widden draft comes next, and Mr. Alfred W. Thompson, besides a batch by Moabite, is represented by yearlings who claim distinctive newcomers in the sire line, Silvius and High Art. Both are importations. Silvius raced in Victoria and S.A. and few will forget his defeat of Amounis at weight-for-age when that champion was at his best, or his subsequent second in the Melbourne Cup to Trivalve. High Art was a winner at Ascot, England, and is by Gainsborough from a half-sister to Valais, surely a strong recommendation for success at the stud in Australia.

Besides these sires, Backwood, who needs no further recommendation than the success of his son, Parkwood, in the recent Newmarket, is also represented in the Widden draft.

This is the first occasion that yearlings from the stud of the late Mr. John Brown have been submitted on the Sydney side, and much interest will centre in the youngsters to be offered on behalf of the estate. They are by Air Balloon, sire of Balloon King, the Victoria Derby and Rosehill Guineas winner, and Richmond Main, also a Derby winner. They do their sires credit.

Mr. H. A. Taylor submits his usual high-class draft by Caravel, who this season has sired Old Ming, a two-year-old winner at Randwick, and Dazzling, winner of the Q.T.C. Hopeful Stakes.

Top Gallant's name was brought prominently before racegoers this season by the success of Barbette in the Oaks. Top of the Morn, Stephen, and Gallant Top are other winners by this most brilliant of Futurity Stakes victors, and his batch of youngsters to be submitted by Mr. A. P. Wade has attracted attention.

Mr. Ken. Austin.

Mr. A. E. Thompson should have no difficulty in disposing of his yearlings by Treclare after the victory of Tregilla in the A.J.C. Derby.

A sire whose stock will create interest is Brazen, if only for the success recently in New Zealand of a hitherto unsuspected champion. This is Bronze Eagle, who suddenly burst into the limelight with a victory in good company, and immediately emphasised his class with another win by eight lengths over 6 furlongs, run in 1.12½. He has earned the approval of the local press as the best two-year-old in New Zealand just now.

Mr. H. C. Rouse was complimented roundly last year on the appearance of his first batch of Brazen's yearlings, and this season's batch is, if possible, an improvement. Other winners in the States of Australia besides Bronze Eagle assure Brazen a successful sale and a particularly bright career at the stud.

Mr. R. J. Edmonds is represented by youngsters by Grosvenor (imp.), who headed the list of winning sires in Denmark last year.

Messrs. R. C. and R. J. Brown, besides a number of good youngsters by Shillinglee, also submit an exceptional colt by Rossendale out of an English bred mare named Calcite, who should catch the eyes of the connoisseurs.

Troilus is advertising his sire Redfern sufficiently to draw attention to the yearlings of Mr. E. A. Haley.

Mr. D. U. Seaton has a batch of youngsters by Snowfire and Bold and Bad. The latter has been represented by the Sires Produce Stakes winner in Adelaide, Winsome Gold.

An old identity who is veritably a landmark in the history of breeding in N.S.W. retires with this season's sales. This is Mr. William Thompson, whose stallions and mares are to be submitted at Scone on April 1. Consequently he is sending down only five, but all are attractive youngsters, conforming to the high standard observed in the past. They are by Australian Sun, whose stock have done well not only in Australia, but in New Zealand.

Notable Yearlings at Chisholm's.

Messrs. H. Chisholm and Co.'s catalogue this year, a high-class and representative one, comprises some two hundred and fifty yearlings from well-known breeders, including Messrs. H. A. Taylor, J. F. Foster, H. S. Thompson and P. C. Basche, O. R. Falkiner, W. Booth, and J. H. S. Barnes, the Lyndhurst Stud, Captain C. J. Chisholm, the Executors of the estate of the late J. Brown, and the Executors of the estate of the late W. E. Mitchell.

There are many close relations to high-class performers in the catalogue, including a half-brother to no less than Eurythmic, on account of Mr. Barnes; and a three-quarter brother to Rampion and Ramulus by The Verderer, on account of Mr. L. A. Hubner; and a three-quarter brother to Mollison in the Lyndhurst draft.

Mr. Ken Austin, popular auctioneer for Chisholm's, will be represented in the catalogue by a bay gelding, a first foal by Backwood from Ransack, and a very close relation to First Acre; also a bay gelding, a first foal, by Pantheon from the Rossendale mare Rosewyn.

Two of the finest yearlings in the catalogue will be colts offered by Mr. Foster, by Heroic and Caravel, and this breeder also has many other good individuals in his draft, including close relations to good two-year-olds Illustrous and Wanderlust, and also to Money Mine, a good New Zealand performer, and a half-brother to Bonaparte, winner of the V.A.T.C. Armadale Handicap at Caulfield.

A draft on account of the Executors of the Estate of the late John Brown will be offered by both firms, and Chisholm's batch includes close relations to Lightning March, winner of the A.J.C. Canonbury Stakes, Prince Foote, Prince Minimbah, winner of the A.J.C. Summer Cup, and other high-class horses.

Mr. E. J. Watt will offer several by imported Doric, sire of Alcman, a good performer in Victoria.

There surely never was such a galaxy of talent representing close relationship to proved performers as that embraced in the draft from Lyndhurst Stud, Queensland.

This year's batch embraces a brother to no less than High Syce, who a little over a year ago covered himself with glory in winning the Caulfield Cup and beating Night March and Mollison in the Melbourne Stakes, weight-for-age.

In addition there is a brother, and also a three-quarter brother to Martand, winner of the A.J.C. Kirkham and December Stakes; a three-quarter brother in blood to Mollison; a sister to High Brae, and a half-sister to Sir Ribble.

In Mr. A. P. Wade's batch at Chisholm's is a brother to Barbette, winner of this season's Oaks, and also a half-sister to Fool's Paradise and Black Cat, two good winners; and a sister to Gallopade, a weight-for-age winner in Victoria.

Mr. E. A. Haley's draft by Redfern and East Tor represent, as usual, high-class quality, and includes close relations to Trevallion and Nandillyan.

Mr. H. C. Rouse, of Biraganbil Stud, Gulgong, will offer for the first time the progeny of a new sire, Captain Blood, an imported son of Gay Crusader. These include yearlings from Malay, the dam of Malayan, Ptilotis (imp.) and Manna, winner of the A.J.C. Gimcrack Stakes, and also a brown filly from the imported mare, Iodine.

There is always interest in the youngsters submitted by Messrs. P. C. Basche and H. S. Thompson, and additional attractions in this year's batch are a half-brother by Heroic to Chemosh, who proved such a swift two-year-old last season, won the Champagne Stakes, and was beaten only once during the season; a brother to Gloriole, who made Randwick record figures when she won a 5 furlong event in 59 sec. at Christmas; a half-brother to Arturus, a smart two-year-old and recent winner in Victoria, and a half-brother by Heroic to Truest, who should surely mix speed with stamina.

Sir Hugh Denison introduces a new sire to bloodstock enthusiasts with this season's batch. This is Dark Fox, by Son-in-Law from a Radium mare, whose representatives in the youngsters to be submitted include a half-sister to Stag Hunter, one of the best of his year in New Zealand.

Mrs. Hillcoat, of Queensland, will also again be represented by a half-sister to Mollison, Calmond, and Corsage by that good sire High Force. Mr. Ian G. Duncan, of Wellington, New Zealand, will offer two fine yearlings by Paper Money (imp.), one a brother to Teller, and a close relation to Gesture and Miss Nottava, winner twice at Randwick in her first two starts this season.

Messrs. H. Chisholm and Co. offer their first draw of yearlings on Thursday, April 9, and attention is drawn to the fact that in the event of sufficient withdrawals, the whole of the first and second draw will be offered on this date, and this contingency is quite probable.

The Clubman's Diary

Tall Story, But True.

IF the drinks were on as to who was the tallest member in the Club, my recommendation would be Mr. H. C. McIntyre, managing director of Universal Pictures.

A native Australian, and as good as he's long, Mr. McIntyre comes of a family that pioneered the picture-show game in Sydney, in the days when the "palaces" were tents. So it is that he knows the business like his A.B.C.

Happy News-Reel.

BACK HOME—that is to say, America—Mr. W. J. (Bill) Clark, Paramount's sales manager, has been looking over the old burg, and he returns to the friendships of the Club, in the leisure hour, with a cheerful message—like one of his firm's joyous news-reels which snaps the hypnotism of depression.

Says Mr. Clark: "Sure, things are looking up over there, and that may be reasonably accepted as reflecting in some measure the world-situation. People are gaining more confidence; spending more freely. A tremendous amount of public and private building is going on and that's greatly reducing the unemployed ranks."

"The Once Over."

BILL CLARK, of course, had a look at Paramount's studios and met such personages as Maurice Chevalier—"a manly fellow with a wonderful personality"—Nancy Carroll—"just as red-headed off the screen as on, and very sweet and effeminate"—William Powell—"who looks, in private life, more like a high-class solicitor"—Jack Oakie—"he only dresses up when he has to; otherwise he might be mistaken about the studios for a mechanic"—Mitzi Green—"a new juvenile star, very little, very pretty, very sweet; a great attraction, but always accompanied by Momma and Poppa"—Marlene Dietrich—"who will be seen in a role even more wonderful than she filled in 'Morocco'"—Ruth Chatterton—"she will be seen soon in 'Unfaithful', the best picture she has ever made."

A Friendly Trio.

FELLOW executives of Mr. Clark, well known to Club members are Mr. John Hicks, jnr., Paramount's Big White Chief in this territory, and Mr. John Kennebeck, whose wide reading makes him among the best informed men in this continent on affairs international.

These three gentlemen have a happy understanding of Australians, and they reflect in their personalities that which develops a proper estimate of the real American's honest worth.

Back in the 'Eighties.

IF Mr. Charles Cropper, A.J.C. Secretary—now in the throes of preparing for the Autumn meeting—ever visits Sydney Cricket Ground, nowadays, he will see himself as he was in his athletic prime, as member of the N.S.W. International Tennis Team, back in the 'eighties.

The picture is hanging just outside the bar—which bears no significance by way of comment, but is mentioned merely as a guide to those S.C.G. members certain to be interested.

Good Luck, Ted!

ONE who will be missing from the Club's Dinner-Dance on April 11 is our old friend Ted Henkel. Reason: He has accepted a six month's professional engagement in Melbourne. Ted never disappointed us in himself or in the quality of his entertaining fare; and he was so modest about it all.

Club Members' Status.

IN most walks of official life you will find members of Tattersall's Club highly placed. Recurrence of Easter Show reminds us that Messrs. James Barnes, John Angus and James McMahon are members of the council of the R.A.S.

Mr. Angus, who usually presides at the festive function associated with the wine judging, is a vice-president, and the scion of one of Australia's oldest wine-growing families.

See How They Grow!

THE dahlia kings of the Club are now in their glory, assuring brother members—many of whom cultivate their blooms in Martin Place—"that some in the collection are as large as soup plates." When Mr. Alf. Genge of Homebush; Mr. Dave Lynch, of Clifton Gardens; and Mr. Percy Gapper, of Mosman; get off to a good start comparing sizes and colours, shy fishermen rush for cover.

Phil. Wirth's Lions.

WHEN Mr. Phil. Wirth comes to publish his autobiography—as we all hope he will—perhaps that true story of the lion hunt at Murrurundi, and its amazing sequel, will not be overlooked. On that occasion, not one lion, but five, escaped. Phil. Wirth placed himself at the head of a search party, quickly recaptured five of the escapees, and then with pitchfork and a bundle of canvas—trailed by a cage—he set out for the missing exhibit. Columbus by name.

Scared By Hens.

THIS tawny fellow had scampered across field, knocked a horse senseless, and then, scenting his pursuers, crept into a fowlhouse. Scared stiff by the cackling of hens, aroused from their beauty sleep, Columbus was discovered crouching in the corner. The cage was backed towards the door of the fowlhouse.

Phil. Wirth entered fearlessly and commanded of Columbus: "Here, yer blighter, get in!" And the king of the forest, slunk back behind the bars, all a-tremble.

"THE CLUB MAN."

Tattersall's Golf Club

Report for Year Ended 28th February, 1931

In presenting the First Annual Report, the Committee feel that it would not be out of place to refer to the origin of the Club. With the ever-increasing Membership of Tattersall's Club, the thought arose in the minds of some of the Members of organising various outdoor games. The question of forming a golfing section was submitted to the Club Committee by Mr. Ingham, but after considering the matter it was felt that nothing could be done.

The enthusiasts were not to be denied, however, and a further effort was made by preparing a list, for submission to the Committee, of the names of those Members who it was known would be attracted. Following on this, the Secretary convened a Meeting of all Members interested in the formation of Sub-Committees for the conduct of competitions in Golf, Bowls, and other outdoor games. The meeting was held in the Clubroom on Monday, January 13th, 1930, and various Sub-Committees were formed. Those appointed for the Golf section were Messrs. J. A. Kenyon, W. A. McDonald, and G. J. Watson. These Members acted promptly, and the first general meeting of golfers was held on the 28th of January, when Office-Bearers were appointed. The initial outing took place on the Manly course in March, and from then on regular games have been conducted each month.

Membership.

From an attendance of twenty-one at the first meeting, the Membership has steadily grown to 173. This is considered to be very satisfactory for the first year.

Competitions.

During the period under review, thirteen outings were held: Stroke, Bogey, Four-Ball, and Mixed Foursome events being conducted. The most important of these were the two competitions for the "A. C. Ingham" Cup—each 18 holes Stroke play.

Donors of Trophies.

The thanks of the Committee are extended to the following Members who have donated trophies (no less than thirty-two being forthcoming during the year).

Special attention is called to the "A. C. Ingham" Cup, given by our Patron for semi-annual competition, and to the trophy donated by Messrs. Mick Simmons Ltd.

Australia and Snow Sport

Some Interesting History

On a tributary of the Snowy River, 50 miles west of Cooma, stands the town of Kiandra, 5,000 feet above sea level. This town has the coldest climate in New South Wales, and has a population of 150. Round about 1860, Kiandra boasted an active gold-mining population of some 10,000 souls. Owing to the extreme winter conditions, the majority of the population migrated each winter. A few hardy souls only remained.

Nearing the summit, Kosciusko.

It is believed that some wandering Finn or Lapp was included in the number of those toiling on the gold-fields. Out of sheer necessity he built himself a pair of skis, and taught the inhabitants the advantage of skis in crossing snow.

During the winter months the town is at the present day snowbound. The mail is brought in from the snow line on skis, and children are forced to use skis to attend school.

In 1878 Kiandra founded a Snow Shoe Club, nine years before the first Ski Club was formed in Norway. Australians were, therefore, practising ski-running as a sport before it was recognised in Europe. The activities of the Snow Shoe Club were confined to the inhabitants of the district. They developed a style of running and a pattern of ski entirely different to the orthodox methods of the present day.

From 1890 onwards, residents of Sydney came to hear of the exploits of these runners, and visitors from various parts of New South Wales began to take annual trips to the miners' carnivals at Kiandra. An Alpine Club formed of these visitors in 1897 was never very successful, and it ceased to exist when the Hotel Kosciusko was opened in 1909.

Transport facilities resulted in the transfer of the skiing activities from Kiandra to Kosciusko, and the formation of a Kosciusko Alpine Club also contributed to the attractions of the snow devotees from the fast-dwindling centre of Kiandra. From that time onward great improvements were effected in the sport.

The Kiandraites still hold their annual carnival. Their style of running is extraordinary when compared with the modern, improved style, which is founded on the best features of English, Norwegian, and Swiss methods. The runners of the old school frequently compete at Kosciusko, and it is noted that they are adopting the modern heel strap. In the course of their development, Kiandra runners evolved a ski wax which enables the runner to climb hills without slipping back, and at the same time it does not affect his speed down hill. The prescription for this wax is still guarded as a close secret. Though the Kiandra runners are quick and clever in thick scrub, when they compete with the present-day runners with experience on European snow fields, the modern runner is able to demonstrate superior speed.

This is the day of new thoughts and ideas. This strange offshoot from the orthodox style of running is doomed, and will soon be a matter of history. There is, however, a wealth of romance in this lost race of ski-runners, who maintain a style which probably had much in common with the earliest Norwegian in medieval times.

The number of visitors to the snow is annually increasing. The Ski Club of Australia made its appearance in 1920, and since that date the Millions Ski Club, the University Ski Club, the Kosciusko School Ski Club, the Public Service Ski Club, and the Royal Automobile Ski Club, as well as several others, have been formed.

In 1928 the more important clubs combined, and a Ski Council was formed to govern the sport in Australia. Under its auspices championship events are held, and standard tests similar to those adopted by the British Ski Club are conducted, and class badges awarded. As a result, the standard of skiing has greatly improved in the last two or three years. A jumping test has been included, with a view to encouraging younger members to practise this spectacular and much neglected sport.

When it is considered that the snow period at Kosciusko extends only from June to September, and that most of the devotees are able to spend only a few weeks on the snow each year, the standard to which the sport has attained is remarkably high.

The fact that the snow is only distant from Sydney sixteen hours, and the exceptionally reasonable fares and facilities provided by the Government should result in the building up of a body of ski-runners in the future which will enable Australians to give a good account of themselves in the Continental world competitions of the future.

Some Interesting Details

All of Tattersall's Club members know that the Club has a Swimming Pool, but have they all found out its wonderful advantages?

Many of our members take their guests to the athletic department and point with pride to the wonderful show there, but that's the only time they are seen.

It is, of course, a great source of pride to the Club that it possesses the only pool of its kind in Australia, but we would point out that the athletic department is guaranteed to cure all ills.

That "morning-after" feeling, overwork and all the assorted ills to which mankind is subject, are banished into outer darkness during that precious hour or so in the pool, in the gym. and in the massage rooms.

Our legal members go back to the musty courts and confound their opponents (who are NOT members of the Club, of course) with their vigor; the medico solves his problems after lunch, and the business man knows no fear of exchange or tariffs.

The prescription is simple—"an hour in the pool every day drives the cobwebs away."

Mr. Dick Laycock confided to us some weeks back, after he'd had a dip in company with N.S.W. 100 yards champion, Cecil Light, that he hadn't known how good the swim was in our grand pool, but after that he was a convert.

We won't say that Mr. Laycock beat the State champion after trying our prescription, but he did the next best thing—he coached the Clovelly Surf Club team to victory in the annual Goldstein Memorial race at Coogee for the trophy presented by our friend Mr. John Dunningham.

Lots of Clubs members have spoken to us and asked why we cannot follow the example of the big clubs in America and have a club team able to take out Australian championships.

Well, it's a long story, but the fact is that under the Liquor Act we cannot do what clubs like the famous Illinois Club in Chicago have done.

That club's swimming team has made world history under the coaching of William Bachrach with men like Johnny Weissmuller, Norman Ross, Perry McGillivray, and a host of others.

Most of those lads were caught young, and were enrolled in the club team before they came to man's estate.

In our case we cannot, under present conditions, enrol a member before he turns 21 years of age, and in the case of speed swimmers they have mostly reached their swimming prime by then and have belonged to other swimming clubs for many years.

The great advantage to the champion or coming champion in being able to swim right throughout the year, is known to all, but we'll have no world's champion wearing Tattersall's Club badge until such time as the laws of the land are amended.

In the meantime the swimming club is going well, and the weekly races are just as popular as ever, and the race for the Dewar Cup and monthly point score trophies never lets up.

Interspersed with these events are exhibitions by various noteworthy people, and during March we had a visit from that interesting personality Charles Zimmy, the legless water marvel.

This visit was due to the kind offices of Mr. J. O'Dea, and was much appreciated by a goodly crowd of members.

Probably the tit-bit of the show was Zimmy's effort in smoking under water which he did for the matter of one and a half minutes, smoke exuding from the surface of the water all the time as if it came from a furnace.

We noted that our Chairman, Mr. Whiddon, studied the feat very closely, but he's one who will not try to emulate it.

Since the last issue of the magazine a couple of notable feats in club swimming have been new club records of $57\frac{1}{2}$ secs. for 100 yards and $30\frac{1}{2}$ for 60 yards by Hans Robertson.

He also holds the following records for the pool:—40 yards, 19 secs. (with N. Longworth); 80 yards, 43 secs.; 220 yards, 2 mins. 30 secs.

Since our last issue, too, Mr. Robertson was placed third in the N.S.W. 100 yards and second in the 220 yards championships. We hand him our belated felicitations.

Mr. Scougall provided one of the happiest thoughts of the season when he decided that if the club put on a 220 yards handicap he would present an appropriate inducement.

In the first heat Mr. Stan Carroll showed up as a real stayer, and made hacks of the field from a long mark, Hans Robertson being amongst the "also rans" with a fine 2.30 effort.

In the other, Mr. A. Richards won pulling up, though he might have had to go harder if Mr. Vic. Armstrong had not pulled up with a lap to go, in the belief that the job was over.

In the days between heats and final the interest was intense, finalists sneaked into the pool for their trials when one one was there, and some astounding times were rumoured.

It was a great final; with ten yards to go Mr. "Pete" Hunter had his head in front of Mr. Carroll to whom, he conceded 23 seconds, and it looked odds on one.

But the surprise of the fans Mr. Carroll put in a Poitrel finish and dead-heated for the prize.

Messrs. Richards and Dexter proved "morning glories," and it was just a toss-up who would get the third place—a long way behind—but the latter settled it by giving it best a lap from home.

During the season monthly point score series have been held for trophies donated by members of the Club, and they have proved no end of incentive for the swimmers.

The series have resulted as follow:—

October-November—Presented by Mr. W. W. Hill, won by Mr. J. Smithers.

November-December—Presented by Mr. C. P. Miller, won by Mr. V. Armstrong.

January—Presented by "Friday Special" Syndicate, won by Mr. A. Richards.

February—Presented by Mr. A. C. W. Hill, won by Mr. K. Hunter.

The March series is for a trophy presented by F. V. Richards & Co., and up to March 21, with two races to go, those with chances were:—H. Robertson, 7 points, A. Richards $4\frac{1}{2}$, W. K. Garnsey 4.

The Dewar Cup is, however, the big prize of the season, and, as was the case last season, the battle is close and interesting.

Half the season is past, and the leaders on points are: A. Richards $37\frac{1}{2}$, K. Hunter 36, S. Carroll $32\frac{1}{2}$.

For the major part of the season Captain Jim Bartlett has acted as starter and timekeeper for the club, and he can be assured that his services are appreciated.

Messrs. Charles Stuart and Jim St. Heaps both started last month, but that was the last seen of them. Don't tell us that 40 yards was too far for swimmers of their calibre.

Only time Mr. Cecil O'Dea, one of the foundation members of the swimming club, has been sighted recently was at the Zimmy exhibition. Cecil tells us that he has all the swimming he wants out sailing. From that he would have us believe that the old ship topples over every time it goes out; but Cecil was always modest, just as he was when he played rep. football for N.S.W. Rugby Union teams.

Though the pool doesn't see him often, the swimming club offers a friendly congratulation, as from one swimmer to another, and him a champion, to Mr. "Bill" Longworth over his great win in the A.I.F. Golf Cup.

These columns would not be complete without a list of the winners of events since our last issue, and it is given below.

January 15—60 yards, K. Hunter, 35 secs.

January 22—80 yards, J. Dexter, 52 secs.

January 29—100 yards, H. Robertson, $57\frac{1}{2}$ secs.

February 5—60 yards, J. Smithers, 35 secs.

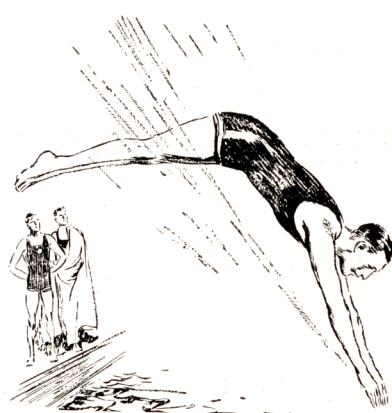

February 12—220 yards, K. Hunter and S. Carroll, dead heat, 3-2 and 2-39.

February 19—80 yards Brace Relay, K. Hunter and A. Richards, 48 secs.

February 26—60 yards, V. Armstrong, 47 secs.

March 5—40 yards, W. K. Garnsey, $23\frac{1}{5}$ secs.

March 12—60 yards, H. Robertson, $30\frac{3}{5}$ secs.

Bridge Club

The Bridge Club held a most enjoyable function on the evening of the 10th March, when competition was most keen for the several trophies offered as prizes.

Mrs. Jerome Dowling won the first prize with a score of 1,164 points. Mrs. J. P. Hannan won the second prize with a score of 1,084 points. Mr. A. Gillespie won the Gent's prize with a score of 1,339 points.

Among those present were:—Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Dowling, Mr. and Mrs. G. Chiene, Mr. and Mrs. A. Gillespie, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Courtenay, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Plasto, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hannan, Mr. and Mrs. A. Langley, Mr. and Mrs. W. Dalley, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Marks, Mr. T. Hannan and Miss Hannan.

The next evening will be held on the 14th April, and those members who have not attended these functions in the past, should make an endeavour to be present in the future as they are certainly missing something worth while.

The Inter-Club Bridge Competition was advanced another stage when the Club Team played the Millions Club Team on the 17th March, with the following result:—

Results of Bridge Competition—Tattersall's Club v. The Millions Club, at Tattersall's Club, 17th Mar., 1931.

F. Williams and A. A. Marks (T.C.) beat Jamieson and McKnight by 1922; Goldstein and Langley beat Hunt and Dail by 652; Nettheim and Burleigh lost to Crane and Stallman by 1129; Plasto and Hannan beat Henderson and Kidston by 86; Gillespie and Dalley lost to Cuffe and Radley by 206. Total for Tattersall's Club, 2660. Total for the Millions Club, 1335. Majority for Tattersall's Club, 1225.

How is Your Bridge?

Forward Bidding is Finding Favour :: Quick Trick Standards

(By John Darrack.)

There was consternation in one club a few days ago, when a very fine player dealt and opened with "One Heart" on this hand:

Spades: x x x
Hearts: J x x x x
Diamonds: A x
Clubs: A x x

"I placed you with the Ace or equivalent in Heart honours," said his partner afterwards. "When I saw you had neither the Ace nor the Queen, I thought nothing in the world was more certain than that you must have the King. Yet—"

"These ideas are passing since Contract Bridge arrived," replied the dealer.

"But we are playing Auction."

"Quite! But Contract Bridge has proved that a hand containing two quick tricks must be bid by the dealer. I had two Aces, but Hearts was the only suit to bid, so I bid "One Heart"."

Auction players have always held that if an original bid is made in a suit, the information conveyed to the partner is that the bidder has Ace or King-Queen five times in that suit, plus one certain trick in another suit.

Forward players would bid a four-card suit; as, for example, "One Spade" on:—

Spades: K Q x x
Hearts: x x
Diamonds: x x x
Clubs: A Q x x

This is not a bid for the inexpert player, and it is one to be avoided by the novice. With the coming of Contract ideas to Auction Bridge, some players will bid "One Diamond" on:—

Spades: x x x x
Hearts: x
Diamonds: A x x x
Clubs: A x x x

Even more finely-shaded bids are encountered. It can only be said that the player who makes those initial bids must be a first-class subsequent bidder, and that he must have more than average skill at playing the cards.

When the player bids a suit without holding the top honours in it, he must always run the very grave risk of misleading his partner.

That is why a player who is not gifted with an inspired card sense will always prefer to play opposite a man whose bids mean something more than that he has two quick tricks in his hand.

Jump Bids.

There is another kind of forward bidding that has come into greater prominence after study of Contract principles. That is the "jump" bid.

A jump bid is totally different from a presumptive bid. It has always been used in Auction Bridge to indicate that the hand must be played in the suit named. If North bids "One Heart," East passes, and South bids "Three hearts," he plainly says, "My hand will be splendidly helpful if played in Hearts, not otherwise."

If North bid "One Heart" and East passed, South, at Contract Bridge, would jump to "Three Hearts" on:—

Spades: x
Hearts: K x x x
Diamonds: x x x x x
Clubs: A K x

This jump bidding to indicate general support for the partner is becoming an accepted Auction Bridge tactic.

No Trump Jumps.

An Auction Bridge player with a good supporting no trump hand is happy to sit tight when he hears a No Trump bid from his partner. Not so the Contract player!

If East bids "One No Trump," South passes, and West holds:—

Spades: K Q x
Hearts: Q J x
Diamonds: A J x x
Clubs: x x x

West will jump at once to Three No Trumps." This is an accepted principle of Contract bidding, where the object is to show the partner the strength of the hand with a view to a possible slam bid. The value of the jump in Auction Bridge, however, does not compensate for the possible double that may follow a policy of silence.

There are times when the jump bid can be used with success in Auction, but this is not one of them.

A Risky Policy.

Undoubtedly there is a tendency to-day to reduce the essential minimums for initial bids. This may or may not be due to the influence of Contract Bridge—exactly opposite opinions are available about that—but it is undoubtedly true that, just as Contract Bridge is a game for the expert, so is this cutting of minimums.

Billiards

(By E.A.B.)

Mr. W. Longworth is being congratulated on all sides on his elevation to the Presidential chair of the Amateur Billiards Association of N.S.W., rendered vacant by the resignation of Mr. A. D. Benjamin, who held the office during the past 18 years.

The coming battle for the blue riband of the British Empire is stirring our English amateur friends to battle for supremacy and the desire to win back the much coveted title from Australia. The competition is to be commenced on Monday, the 22nd June next, in the large hall of the Y.M.C.A. in Pitt Street, Sydney, where Lindrum, Smith and McConachy played their several matches. The championship will be decided under the American principle, under which all competitors play each other, the winner of most games to be declared Amateur Champion of the British Empire.

Brief History of Play.

The following brief history of play in the British Empire Amateur Championship will assuredly prove interesting reading to Club members. In 1926 the first battle for the title was played in Thurston's Hall, Leicester Square, London, with the following competitors: G. B. Shailer (amateur champion of Australia), P. W. Rutledge (amateur champion of South Africa), J. Earlam (amateur champion of England), Malcolm Smith (amateur champion of Scotland) and P. McCluney (amateur champion of Northern Ireland). The competitors played each other, and Messrs. Earlam and Shailer, having won three games each, played the final game of 2,000 up. In this game the Australian representative put up a strenuous fight, but he was out-played and defeated. Immediately on winning, Earlam joined up with the professionals.

The second championship was played in Burroughes and Watts' Hall, Soho Square, London, with four competitors, Allen Prior (amateur champion of South Africa), H. F. E. Coles (Wales), L. Steeples (amateur champion of England), and Malcolm Smith (amateur champion of Scotland). Prior was the winner, having three games to his credit.

The third contest was played in April-May in the saloon of the Carlton Hotel, Johannesburg, South Africa, the starters being Allen Prior, holder of the title (S.A.), H. F. E. Coles (amateur champion of England), L. W. Hayes (amateur champion of Australia), and P. W. Rutledge (amateur champion of South Africa). Mr. Hayes (Australia) won his three games, the title and the valuable challenge trophy presented by Mr. Arthur Walker, the esteemed President of the South African Association. In winning his three games, Mr. Hayes made breaks of 136, 130, 122, 118, 106 and 102, and averaged 15.54. The fourth contest is to be played in Sydney, as already stated, and three starters are already known, Australia, England, and South Africa.

Exhibition Game.

A game was recently played in the Club Rooms between Mr. L. W. Hayes (Empire Amateur Champion) and Mr. W. Longworth. Mr. Longworth received a start of 50 points in eighty minutes' play—a rather brief

Members who have not yet paid their Annual Subscription are reminded that same became due for renewal on the 1st of March.

space of time to admit of Mr. Hayes doing himself the justice demanded by his exalted position as a breaker and holder of the title of Amateur Champion of the British Empire.

The table, just newly covered, was in perfect order, but Mr. Hayes did not play up to expectation and, therefore, nothing sensational occurred, his best efforts being 62 and 53. On the other hand, the genial "Billy" in breezy fashion rattled up a well-played effort of 68. Both players were consistent in the collection of double-figure breaks, and, in winning, the champion had an average of 11 as against 10 by his opponent.

Luminous Lindrum.

The eyes of the billiards world are just now centred on the young Australian marvel, Walter Lindrum, who is furnishing amazing billiards and sensational breaks in the land of fog down under. To concede the world's best players a start of 7,000 points in a two weeks' match, a total of 48 hours' play, and a licking, is indeed something to marvel at, and, with a stupendous string of colossal breaks to his belt, it stamps him as the greatest of all champions in the history of billiards.

Presentation of Oil Painting Phar Lap

On Monday, 23rd March, an oil painting by Captain Stuart Reid of Phar Lap, with J. Pike up, was presented to the Club by Mr. D. J. Davis, a Member of the Club and part owner of the champion.

Mr. Davis said it gave him great pleasure to make the presentation and that he had a dual purpose in doing so, firstly he thought it fitting that the leading Sporting Club in Australasia should have a picture of the highest stake winner in Australasia, and secondly he desired that there should be a perpetual likeness of the horse for future generations.

Alderman J. M. Dunningham, M.L.A., Treasurer of the Club, in the absence of the Chairman through illness, accepted the gift on behalf of the Committee and assured Mr. Davis that the painting would be hung in a prominent position in the Club. It would be gratifying to Members, he said, to know that those directly interested in the presentation were Members of the Club, and that Amounis from whom Phar Lap had wrested the Stake Record, was owned by Mr. W. Pearson, also a Member of the Club. Mr. Dunningham also paid a tribute to Captain Stuart Reid, who he said, also achieved fame at the War.

The artist, Captain Stuart Reid, who incidentally is a member of the Club, came to Australia about seven years ago. He studied first with Hassall and Richard Jack, R.A., at the New Art School, London, and then for a period at the Glasgow School of Arts. Later he was admitted to the Royal Academy of Art, Munich.

During the War he saw service on Gallipoli as a lieutenant with the Scottish Horse Yeomanry, and later with the Royal Air Force in Arabia and Palestine he rose to the rank of captain.

At the close of hostilities he held an Exhibition of his War Drawings at Royal Air Force Headquarters, Cairo. This brought him under the notice of the Imperial War Museum Commissioners, who entrusted him with the painting of seven canvases depicting several well-known flying episodes in the Palestine Campaign. These pictures are now hung in the permanent collection of the Imperial War Museum, London.

All controversies apart concerning Phar Lap's merit compared with champions of the past, there is one accomplishment that will take a lot of beating by horses that have gone or by those to come.

Who can name another champion which, in the space of 13 months, made the meteoric rise from obscurity to challenge the greatest stake winners of the period? That is what Phar Lap did.

There are other things, such, for instance, as his versatility, and his time records over long journeys, but winning over £45,000 in 13 months is an achievement that will always mark Phar Lap as the speediest money-spinner in Turf history.

Until the spring of his three-year-old season Phar Lap had earned only £182 in prize money. But from October, 1929, until November, 1930, he compiled a record of 22 wins and earned £45,547.

Take Amounis by comparison, his nearest stake-winning rival. It kept the old champion busy from August, 1925, until November, 1930, a period of over five years, winning the £48,297/10/- that enabled him to outstrip Gloaming and become Australasian champion stake-winner.

But this autumn Phar Lap resumed the irresistible onslaught that ultimately put him far ahead of Amounis, and now he stands out as greatest prize-winner of the Southern Hemisphere with £51,642 to his credit.

ANNUAL REPORT for the Year ended 28th February, 1931

Your committee has much pleasure in presenting the Annual Report for the past year, together with the audited accounts, which disclose a net profit of £1,959 19/6. This result should be regarded as highly satisfactory in view of the many difficulties associated with the conduct of the Club's affairs during the period under review.

Membership of the Club at the close of the year totalled 2,002, made up as follows:—1,532 City and Suburban, 320 Country and Interstate, 141 Bookmakers, and 9 Honorary Life Members.

Your committee reports with deep regret the demise of the following members during the past year:—Messrs. W. Armstrong, J. A. Beales, W. J. Braggett, H. H. Brown, John Brown, Joseph Brown, R. C. Byrne, W. Easton, H. Garratt, C. P. Hannan, A. H. Hedger, R. C. Hungerford, J. Hume, S. M. Jacobs, J. H. Kelly, C. Kemp, J. F. Mendelssohn, F. Miller, W. Moffatt, G. McKee, J. Nelson, R. B. Officer, D. J. O'Brien, J. B. Olliffe, J. Reedy, P. Rollston, W. Scott Fell, F. E. White and John Williamson.

Social functions held in the Club House were well patronised and thoroughly appreciated by members and their friends, while the popularity of the Bridge, Bowling, Golf and Swimming Clubs reflects great credit upon their respective executives.
